

IACME-letter

A newsletter for IACME members

January 12, 2006

Join your colleagues for a dinner in SF!

If you've attended the IACME dinner held in conjunction with the Alliance for CME Annual Meeting in the past, you know that it is an event not to be missed. This year's festivity will be held on Thursday, January 26, 2006 at Roe Restaurant, a contemporary Burmese restaurant with Japanese and French influences. Download the registration form and secure your place at this traditional event today!

Celebrating Illinois Leadership

If you haven't already noticed, the Board of Directors of the Alliance for CME has five members from the state of Illinois. Since the Board is comprised of 16 total members, persons from Illinois represent over 30% of the governing body of the Alliance. The Directors from the Land of Lincoln who are also members of our IACME are Terry Hatch, MD, Suzanne Ziemnik, MEd, and Marcella Hollinger, MEd. In addition to the directors, the incoming President-Elect, Sue Ann Capizzi, MBA, FACME and Treasurer, Greg Paulos, MBA are also from Illinois.

The representation from the Illinois Alliance for CME is unprecedented in the history of the Alliance for CME and is another reason for you to join us at the IACME dinner in San Francisco. This fun filled evening will be an opportunity to renew and create friendships and to congratulate our colleagues for their leadership.

Save the Date - Spring Meeting

IACME's spring educational meeting will take place on June 23, 2006 at the Stonegate Conference and Banquet Centre in Hoffman Estates, Illinois. Please mark your calendar for what will certainly be an enlightening meeting!

Special thanks to Jacqueline Parochka for her help with the content of this issue of the IACME-letter.

Tell us what you think!

We hope you enjoyed this edition of the IACME-letter. The IACME Communications Committee appreciates your comments and feedback.

For IACME information, job opportunities, CME resources, and past editions of the IACME-letter, visit: www.iacmeonline.org

You can help promote the IACME by forwarding this message to your colleagues. To be removed from this list, please reply to this message with "Remove" in the subject line.