IACME Spring Educational Meeting Addresses "Hot Topics in CME"

Friday, June 23, 2006, Stonegate Conference and Banquet Centre, Hoffman Estates, IL

Twice a year, the membership of the Illinois Alliance for CME comes together to share insights, address professional challenges, and celebrate leadership and excellence within our local community. The upcoming Spring Educational Meeting will provide another great opportunity to network with colleagues and friends while getting an essential update on new guidelines and educational approaches. The AMA's Rebecca DeVivo will present what providers need to know about implementing the updated AMA PRA Guidelines, and former Chicagoan Charles Willis will introduce us to the cutting edge of Internet Point of Care CME. The program will also include highlights (and posters) from the Alliance for CME Annual Conference held this past February, as well as our Annual Business Meeting with the announcement of new officers and the presentation of the Thomas G. Pearson, EdD Distinguished Service Award.

Following the luncheon, the afternoon program will feature an engaging expert panel including DeVivo and Willis along with Howard Mevis, Mark Weiting, Terry Hatch, and Steve Singer who will address your pressing questions on Hot Topics in CME. To submit a question for the panel, please send an email to Michelle Adams at madams@aad.org by June 15. The Spring Educational Meeting is a program you won't want to miss. If you haven't yet registered, be sure to do so by June 15th. Download the brochure and send the registration form with payment by check or money order to Nancy Bashook, 1126 Austin Street, Evanston, IL 60202. If you have any questions, please contact Nancy at 847-733-1750.
